NEW AGRICO BUILDING COLLAPSES

U. N. Police Force Plan OK'd by Egypt

Peace Keepers Expected in Suez by Tuesday

(By The Associated Press) Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold announced in New York today that agreement had been reached with Egypt for the entry of the U. N. police force immediately. He said the first group would arrive there early this week.

Hammarskjold said he himself would leave by noon for Cairo Tuesday to be on hand for detailed discussions with the Egyptian government. He said he expected to reach the Egyptian capital Thursday and return to New York by Sunday.

The first units of the U. N. force already are at a staging area at Capodichino Airport, near Naples, Italy. Some of the troops may leave for Egypt as early as Tuesday, Hammarskjold said.

The secretary general said he wanted to visit the staging area as well as Egypt. The commander of the U. N. force, Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada, will meet him in Italy for consultations.

Hammarskjold said the purpose of his own visit to the Egyptian battle area was "to see that no unnecessary loose ends" are left.

He said he had no intention to confer with military leaders of the invading British, French and Israeli forces.

As the U. N. prepared to move its police force into the battle area, the effects of last week's British-French invasion of the Suez Canal zone continued to reverberate around the world.

BOTH RUSSIA and Communist China issued new threats to send "volunteers" to help Egypt throw out the British and French "aggressors."

At Beirut, the heads of five Arab states met in a top-secret parley to discuss the whole Middle East situation.

Reports said the leaders of Iraq, Jordan, Syria, Lebanon and Saudi Arabia would discuss not only the British-French invasion but the threat posed by the rapid spread of Communist influence in the area.

In New Delhi, Indian Prime Minister Nehru met with the prime minister of Burma, Indonesia and Ceylon to discuss both the Middle East and Russian repression in Hungary.

Both India and Ceylon are Asian members of the British Commonwealth, which has been split by the British invasion of Egypt.

A communiqué issued at the conclusion of the session said only that they had met to talk over these questions and would meet again Tuesday.

Before the meeting, Nehru declared U. N. supervision of free elections in revolt-torn Hungary was not right.

"I do not know all the details of the U. N. discussion of the proposal for withdrawal of Russian troops from Hungary and U. N. supervision of elections there but I can say that the operational (elections) part of the resolution was not right," he said.

Higher Farm Price Supports Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kerr (D-Oklahoma) today advocated a move in the next session of Congress to rewrite the farm law so as to provide high price supports for various farm commodities.

Kerr said he favors price support levels of at least 90 per cent of parity not only on the basic farm products but also on live-stock and perishable commodities.

He frequently has disagreed with Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who has favored a flexible price support program.

29 Persons Killed Over Ohio Weekend

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio recorded a tragedy-laden weekend in which 29 persons died violent accidental deaths.

An Associated Press survey covering the period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday showed that of that number 20 were due to highway accidents.

Annual Veterans Day Observance Held Here

VETERAN'S DAY—The Rev. Father Richard J. Connelly, pastor of the St. Colman's Catholic Church is shown here delivering an address at Washington High School Monday morning during memorial services marking Veteran's Day.

Veterans Day observances here began Sunday continued through Monday and are scheduled to end Monday evening with a ceremony at the courthouse.

Sunday morning, members of the American Legion Post and its Auxiliary met at Legion Hall, at 10 a.m., and went in a group to Grace Methodist Church for special services.

The major observances were scheduled for Monday. These ceremonies started at Washington High School with a morning address by the Rev. Richard J. Connelly, pastor of St. Colman's Catholic Church, to the student assembly.

An assembly was held at Bloomingburg High School Monday morning for the 7th through 12th grades. Gilbert Biddle, principal, delivered an address on the "Unknown Soldier," and the students observed a minute of silent prayer for the veterans of all wars.

Students at Good Hope took part in services at the Good Hope Cemetery Monday afternoon which were sponsored by the Twin Oaks Garden Club.

SERVICES will be held on the Courthouse lawn Monday evening. Members of Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars posts in Fayette County will assemble at the Legion Hall at 7:30 and, led by the WHS Band, will march to the Courthouse. R. B. Tharp, of state Legion headquarters, will conduct the service.

Following the memorial service, there will be an open house.

4 Said Killed In Athens Crash

ATHENS (AP)—Four persons were reported killed today in a traffic accident at the intersection of U. S. 50 and Ohio 7, west of Coolville in Athens County.

The body of the dead woman was found in the front bedroom of her third-floor apartment. Her five children were on a bed and the floor of a combination bedroom and kitchen.

The other two children were found in a rear third-floor room.

Firemen said all died of burns and suffocation.

ASSISTANT Fire Chief Leo Kuhn said the fire apparently started at the foot of a flight of center steps in the basement. The bottom of the stair well was closed off from the rest of the basement with sheet metal.

The stairway was a funnel for the blaze," Kuhn said. "The fire shot up the stairway, cutting off any escape for the occupants. At each floor the heat broke the glass from door transoms, spreading the flames into living quarters.

"When the skylight broke, it gave the flames the needed draft and the fire roared skyward."

Police listed the dead as:

Mrs. Edna Dyas, 26, and her five children, John, 10; Beverly, 8; Jocelyn, 5; Arlene, 6, and James 2; and Terry Jane Clark, 5 months.

Workman Hurt As Wind Downs Tall Structure

Superintendent's Quick Thinking Prevents Tragedy

Alertness of Denver Daulton, superintendent of construction, probably saved the lives, and certainly serious injury, of 25 workmen when the nearly completed 165 by 180 foot new storage warehouse of the American Agricultural Chemical Co. on Robinson Rd. collapsed about 12:20 p.m. Monday.

One man, Jack Duckett, 24, Richmond, Ind., was taken to Memorial Hospital with a possible leg fracture. An hour later he was still in the X-ray room to determine definitely the extent of his injuries.

Ducket was the only man in the building at the time, Daulton said.

Daulton said Duckett was up about 28 feet on the inside framework of the 60-foot tall frame building when it fell. Whether he did not hear the order to get out or whether he had not had time is not known. He was pulled out by fellow workmen and taken to the hospital.

THE CREW of 25 had just returned from lunch, one of them said, when Daulton told them all to get out of the building, which he said he had noticed was swaying under the buffeting of a 40-mile-an-hour west wind.

Daulton explained that he had gone inside to make certain the building was "in plumb" when he noticed that some of the big upright timbers were leaning slightly to the east. It was then that he ordered the crew outside.

Cables were fastened high up on the building's west side in an effort to hold it against the wind.

IN THE SCHOOLS throughout the county, teachers explained the meaning of Veterans Day to their students Monday.

Ohio Attorney General Eyes Action against Phone Firm

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio Governor-elect C. William O'Neill is making plans to go to the state supreme court in an effort to solve the prolonged strike against the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co.

Aides to O'Neill, now state attorney general, are hoping to seek in the high court a hearing by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

The commission had ordered a hearing and summoned the company to show why emergency service in Portsmouth should not be set up. But the company blocked this move temporarily by obtaining a writ of prohibition in the high court.

Now it will be the job of the attorney general's office to seek lifting of the writ so that the commission hearing can be held. There was no indication when the attorney general would make the next move in the case.

Child Fatally Injured as Car Plunges Off Road, Hits Fence

Funeral services for 16-month-old Vicki Jane Dilley, who died of injuries received in an automobile accident on the Devalon Rd. at 1:15 p.m. Saturday, are to be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Gerstner Funeral Home.

Vicki, daughter of Police Patrolman and Mrs. John Dilley, 1303 E. Elm St., was fatally injured when the automobile driven by her uncle, Robert Lee Dilley, 19, of 524 Wilson St., went off the right side of the road at a curve a short distance north of the entrance to the Children's Home. The car was headed toward Bloomingburg.

Mrs. Dilley, 17, aunt of Vicki, was cut and bruised, but the driver was not seriously injured.

Vicki was taken to Memorial Hospital here by a passing motorist, Paul Robinson, of Bloomingburg. Mrs. Dilley was brought shortly afterward in the Gerstner ambulance.

AFTER a preliminary examination and emergency treatment for a skull fracture, the child was taken on to Children's Hospital, Columbus, where she died at 5:35 p.m. Her uncle went in the ambulance with her.

Mrs. Dilley was treated at the hospital here and released.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Hays said Dilley told him he was going 40 miles an hour as he rounded the curve. The officer's report showed

Refugees Sought

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—The Chilean government plans to admit 1,000 Hungarian refugees, selecting those skilled in agriculture.

VIENNA (AP)—The overwhelming power of Russia's huge military machine moved relentlessly today against the last pockets of Hungarian national resistance.

The only major pocket left inside ruined Budapest was at Csepel Island, site of the nation's biggest industrial complex. Workers barricaded themselves in one of the big Danube island factories and continued to beat off determined attacks by Soviet armor.

Other pockets still held out in the Budapest suburb of Ujpest, in Dunapentele (Stalinvaros), south of the Csepel Island area, and at Pecs, near the Yugoslav border.

The last stand rebels also fought cold, hunger and despair.

The puppet premier installed by the Russians, Janos Kadar, admitted in a speech over Budapest radio that groups of rebels still were holding out in cellars by day, emerging by night in larger groups for hit-and-run attacks.

In the relentless Russian pursuit of the nationalists remnants, rows of workers houses were shattered, a children's clinic was wiped out, hospitals were set afire.

The war has been long. But the revolution is not defeated.

The present government of Premier Janos Kadar is only too anxious to emphasize that it has nothing in common with Stalinism and its Hungarian representative, Matyas Rakosi (now believed to be in prison).

CAN THE government persuade Hungarians to believe this? The answer is no.

Kadar has made desperate efforts to persuade other politicians, non-Communists as well as Communists, to join his "revolutionary" government. He has had no success so far.

Kadar's cabinet consists of only six members. It is snubbed by everyone, including Communists and politicians who had been considered most loyal fellow travelers in the past.

There is one reason. Kadar returned "riding a Russian tank," virtually no one can forgive this.

The first intoxicating taste of victory and freedom for the Hungarians a week ago has turned to crushing defeat at the hands of the Russian tanks.

Neither Kadar nor the half-dozen Communist politicians forming his puppet government are anti-Stalinists although Kadar spent about four years in Rakosi's jail.

Dr. Paul Elliott, pastor of McNaught Memorial Presbyterian Church here and the Bloomingburg Presbyterian Church, will conduct the funeral services. Burial will be in the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

Friends may call any time at the funeral home.

Unknown Soldier Honored

They Seek Peace Who Know War

WASHINGTON — A presidential wreath was laid at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery Sunday as the nation's capital observed Veterans Day.

Veterans Administrator Harvey W. Highley represented President Eisenhower at the ceremony. More than 2,000 persons bowed their heads in silent reverence during the sounding of "Taps."

Film star James Stewart, principal speaker at the tomb, called the ceremony a double tribute, to those who died and to those "who returned to serve their country again."

"No one desires lasting peace more than those who know war," added Stewart, a World War II bomber pilot and an Air Force reserve colonel.

The Defense Department announced, meantime, that the World War I shrine will be expanded to honor an unknown soldier from each of World War II and the Korean War. Tentative plans have been drawn to complete the change by Memorial Day 1958.

In Paris, a 61-year-old bugler Sunday night fulfilled a World War I dream to return to France to play taps for his fallen comrades.

By the flickering light of the eternal flame which guards France's Unknown Soldier, Hartley Edwards completed his pilgrimage from Denison, Tex.

He proudly raised the same bugle he played 37 years ago in ceremonies that moved such old soldiers as Gen. John J. Pershing and Marshal Ferdinand Foch.

The intervening years had left their mark on both bugle and bugler. But Edwards stood stiff and proud in a gentle rain as he sounded the call that signals rest for tired soldiers.

About 500 American veterans and an honor guard of French airmen, soldiers and sailors stood at attention around the Arch of Triumph while Edwards played at the 11th annual three-month sitting, perhaps the most crucial in U. N. history.

The Assembly stood ready to take up either crisis whenever Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold could report success or failure in his attempts to get U. N. observers into Hungary and a U. N. police force into Egypt.

Admission of three new U. N. members and the annual Soviet bid to seat Communist China were expected at the opening meeting.

Morocco, Sudan and Tunisia, also recommended by the Security Council for entry into the U. N., were deemed certain to get the necessary two-thirds vote of approval in the Assembly. This would raise membership to 79.

HONG KONG — Radio Peiping announced today Communist China has offered Egypt a gift of 20 million Swiss francs ($2,800,000).

WARSAW, Poland — The government has announced plans to give full ownership rights to peasants holding land split from big estates after World War II.

TAIPEI, Formosa — The Chinese Communists have shot down a Chinese Nationalist troop transport over the East China coast. Peiping radio said the bodies of nine Nationalist officers and enlisted men were recovered from the wreckage.

City Firemen Summoned As Meat Burns on Stove

Where there's smoke there's a fire, and when in doubt call the Fire Department.

That was Fire Chief George E. Hall's comment after the pumper had been called at 2:15 p. m. Saturday to the Earle Starkey residence, 302½ Van Deiman Ave., which was filled with smoke from burning meat. The fire under the meat on the stove had been turned out before the firemen arrived.

U. N. To Study Pair of Crises

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — The crises in Hungary and the Middle East were the two main issues before the U. N. General Assembly at the opening today of its 1956 regular session.

Soviet military action against Hungarian rebels and the British-French and Israeli invasions of Egypt topped a list of 73 subjects awaiting Assembly debate at the 11th annual three-month sitting, perhaps the most crucial in U. N. history.

The Assembly stood ready to take up either crisis whenever Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold could report success or failure in his attempts to get U. N. observers into Hungary and a U. N. police force into Egypt.

Admission of three new U. N. members and the annual Soviet bid to seat Communist China were expected at the opening meeting.

Morocco, Sudan and Tunisia, also recommended by the Security Council for entry into the U. N., were deemed certain to get the necessary two-thirds vote of approval in the Assembly. This would raise membership to 79.

KARLSRUHE, Germany — John told a five-judge court trying him for treason today he was subjected to "psychic torment" during the 17 months he was behind the Iron Curtain. He said he has "nothing to fear" now.

JOHN, former head of the West German intelligence organization and sometimes called "the man with the thousand secrets," went on trial before the federal supreme court on charges of disclosing state secrets and denouncing agents of his office to the Russians. He has been in prison in West Germany since he slipped back across the Iron Curtain nearly a year ago.

Addressing the court today, John, now 47, said: "My health is not important. If anyone here had any idea what psychic torment I had to endure during the 17 months with the Russians, they would not have confined me like a serious criminal. I have nothing to fear or else I would not stand here."

TAIPEI, Formosa — The Chinese Nationalists believe the crisis in the Middle East has increased the danger of attack by the Chinese Communists.

HAMBURG, Germany — Two of the world's largest salvage ships, the Energie and Ausdauer, set off today for Port Said to help clear the Suez Canal.

THE HAGUE, Netherlands — Queen Juliana has invited a 66-year-old Dutch law professor, Joost A. Van Hamel, to study reorganization of her household personnel, an authoritative source disclosed today.

This reorganization follows uneasiness in the nation concerning the crisis in the royal house allegedly caused by the Queen's association with faith healer, Miss Gert Hofmaas.

Unknown Soldier Honored

They Seek Peace Who Know War

WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential wreath was laid at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery Sunday as the nation's capital observed Veterans Day.

Veterans Administrator Harvey W. Highley represented President Eisenhower at the ceremony. More than 2,000 persons bowed their heads in silent reverence during the sounding of "Taps."

Film star James Stewart, principal speaker at the tomb, called the ceremony a double tribute, to those who died and to those "who returned to serve their country again."

"No one desires lasting peace more than those who know war," added Stewart, a World War II bomber pilot and an Air Force reserve colonel.

The Defense Department announced, meantime, that the World War I shrine will be expanded to honor an unknown soldier each from World War II and the Korean War. Tentative plans have been drawn to complete the change by Memorial Day 1958.

In Paris, a 61-year-old bugler Sunday night fulfilled a World War I dream to return to France to play taps for his fallen comrades.

By the flickering light of the eternal flame which guards France's Unknown Soldier, Hartley Edwards completed his pilgrimage from Del Rio, Tex.

He proudly raised the same bugle he played 37 years ago in ceremonies that moved such old soldiers as Gen. John J. Pershing and Marshal Ferdinand Foch.

The intervening years had left their mark on both bugle and bugler. But Edwards stood stiff and proud in a gentle rain as he sounded the call that signals rest for tired soldiers.

About 500 American veterans and an honor guard of French airmen, soldiers and sailors stood at attention around the Arch of Triumph while Edwards played at the 11th annual Armistice Day tribute of Americans living in Paris.

Earlier in the afternoon, Edwards also played taps at the cemetery at Compiegne.

Edwards last played beneath the arch at French Independence Day ceremonies July 14, 1919, when "victory" celebration. He was a crier July 14, 1919, when Paris literally exploded with a "victory" celebration. He was a member of the crack 50-man drum and bugle corps Gen. Pershing formed of American veterans.

U. S. Farmers' Production Seen as Virtually a Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's farmers produced a total crop this year of virtually record proportions.

In a late harvest time report, the agriculture department estimates crop volume at nearly 106 per cent of the 1947-1949 average.

The record stands at the 106 per cent figure, reached in 1948 when there were no federal curbs on production. This year, however, farmers operated under acreage limitation on basic crops. And the new soil bank program also resulted in some additional crop land being retired from production of commodities already in surplus.

The department said the 1956 corn crop, totaling 3,412,000,000 bushels, is the second largest of record—5 per cent above last year and 11 per cent above average.

The report credited favorable weather in October with helping to boost production totals for corn, sorghum, grain, rice, tobacco, potatoes, sugar cane and some fruits. It also noted some decreases in output of soy beans, cotton, sugar beets, dry beans, peanuts and some vegetables.

The department announced corn growers will vote Dec. 11 on what kind of a planting control program they want for next year's crop. This will be the first corn referendum ever held.

In the referendum, provided under the new farm law, growers will be given a choice of these two programs:

1. Based on an over-all allotment of 37,288,889 acres to be apportioned among growers in a designated commercial producing area which comprises 894 counties in 24 states of the Midwest, East and Southeast. The 1957 allotment would be about 16 per cent smaller than this year's.

2. Geared to the soil bank plan and providing for a total of 51 million acres to be apportioned among commercial area growers.

The acreage allotment program will go into effect unless there is a two-thirds vote in favor of the 51-million-acre plan, which would run through the 1959 crop when the soil bank plan is due to expire.

Under the acreage allotment the department is required to support corn prices at between 75 and 90 per cent of parity. Under the soil bank plan, supports may be pegged at between zero and 90 per cent of parity, but participating farmers also are eligible for federal payments for retiring some of their cropland. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

Farmers outside the commercial area will be free to plant whatever corn acreage they wish. However, they will be eligible for a support rate only 75 per cent of that offered in the commercial area.

U. S. Farmers' Production Seen as Virtually a Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's farmers produced a total crop this year of virtually record proportions. In a late harvest time report, the agriculture department estimates crop volume at nearly 106 per cent of the 1947-1948 average. The record stands at the 106 per cent figure, reached in 1948 when there were no federal curbs on production. This year, however, farmers operated under acreage limitation on basic crops. And the new soil bank program also resulted in some additional crop land being retired from production of commodities already in surplus.

The department said the 1956 corn crop, totaling 3,412,000,000 bushels, is the second largest of record—5 per cent above last year and 11 per cent above average. The report credited favorable weather in October with helping to boost production totals for corn, sorghum grain, rice, tobacco, potatoes, sugar cane and some fruits. It also noted some decreases in output of soy beans, cotton, sugar beets, dry beans, peanuts and some vegetables.

The department announced corn growers will vote Dec. 11 on what kind of a planting control program they want for next year's crop. This will be the first corn referendum ever held.

In the referendum, provided under the new farm law, growers will be given a choice of these two programs:

1. Based on an over-all allotment of 37,288,889 acres to be apportioned among growers in a designated commercial producing area which comprises 894 counties in 24 states of the Midwest, East and Southeast. The 1957 allotment would be about 16 per cent smaller than this year's.

2. Geared to the soil bank plan and providing for a total of 51 million acres to be apportioned among commercial area growers.

The acreage allotment program will go into effect unless there is a two-thirds vote in favor of the 51-million-acre plan, which would run through the 1959 crop when the soil bank plan is due to expire.

Under the acreage allotment the department is required to support corn prices at between 75 and 90 per cent of parity. Under the soil bank plan, supports may be pegged at between zero and 90 per cent of parity, but participating farmers also are eligible for federal payments for retiring some of their cropland. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

Farmers outside the commercial area will be free to plant whatever corn acreage they wish. However, they will be eligible for a support rate only 75 per cent of that offered in the commercial area.

Labor Peace Seen Continuing Under Ike's Administration

WASHINGTON (AP) — The extraordinary degree of labor peace that prevailed during President Eisenhower's first four years in office is likely to continue well into his second term.

Most of the big labor union contracts have been signed for periods running several years into the future. These pacts assure relative freedom from major strikes.

Long-term agreements — running two, three and even four years — are in effect in the auto, steel, aircraft, apparel, construction, meat packing and electrical manufacturing industries.

The largest group of railroad worker unions, the 11 non-operating unions, has just signed a three-year contract. There also seems to be progress toward buttoning down the East Coast longshoremen's labor controversy, long a trouble spot on another three-year basis.

There may be a renewal of scattered labor troubles in the South, among smaller worker groups. The big unions, with their northern contracts settled for the next several years, may turn to renewed organizing efforts in Dixie. Many employers there are stoutly resisting union efforts to organize their workers.

Living costs are a record high and appear to be rising. But labor unions generally have taken care of this by providing, in their long term contracts, for pre-arranged annual raises and living cost pay boosts. These latter arrangements gear wage rates to government living cost index changes, both up and down.

Controversy may come on the legislative front, in Congress and state legislatures. The Republican party is pledged to "a complete overhaul" of the Taft-Hartley labor law and the Democratic party, to its outright repeal. This almost guarantees some efforts to change the act.

Should Gas Taxes Be Used For Highway Only?

With the constantly increasing demand for more and better highways there also is a movement in many states to forbid diverting state-gasoline tax receipts for uses other than improving present highways and building new ones.

It is reported that 26 states have adopted state constitutional amendments toward this end, Minnesota being the first to do so in 1920.

Montana on November 6 is to vote on such an amendment. Virginia and several other states have statutory provisions along the same general line.

There has been opposition also to this method of using gas tax funds for highway purposes only. Many so-called tax experts insist that no tax should be earmarked for a special purpose. In opposing earmarking in January 1951, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York argued that by extending the principle, state taxes on alcohol would logically have to be set aside for the rehabilitation of alcoholics.

The New York State Joint Legislative Committee on Highways, Canals, and Revenues in a 1952 report defended the New York practice of placing highway revenues in the general fund. It called the practice a target of "highway-user, farm and tax groups" complaining of New York's weight-distance tax on heavy vehicles. As for the states which don't divert, the committee noted, "in most instances their highway problems are at least as acute, and usually more so, than are those of states who do."

The federal gasoline tax is also earmarked for highway purposes. The Congress at the 1956 session boosted the gasoline tax from 2c to 3c a gallon, at the same time raising other highway users taxes, to pay the federal share of the new federal-state $51.5 billion highway program. Revenues from all user taxes, new and old, as provided by the new act, now go into a special highway trust fund, instead of into the Treasury's general fund.

The movement in the states to bar diversion of highway users taxes for other purposes provoked much favorable sentiment in the Depression years of the 1930's, but most of the real action came after 1940. Back of the so-called "better roads" movement are the American Automobile Association, the National Highway Users Conference, the American Association of State Highway Officials, and various trade groups.

In casting the one vote against the new federal-state highway bill at the 1956 session, Sen. Russell B. Long (D La.) said he could not in good conscience vote to impose new taxes on highway users. They already, Long said, were pouring more than $2.5 billion into the Treasury annual.

State expenses for highways continue going up. In 1955 alone, the states put out more than $4.8 billion for new roads and maintenance, up 16.6 per cent from 1954.

electric burglar alarm can be fed more cheaply, and that a cat makes a nicer house pet because she is gentle and soft-footed.

This is the rule where I live, a vast apartment project housing more than 2,000 families. When I asked why cats were permitted but dogs were verboten, I was told:

"Look, if 1,000 families here had children and 500 had cats, you wouldn't hardly notice the cats, because they stay in the house. But if the other 500 families had dogs, you know what we'd have? Lawsuits!"

"You couldn't mix cats, dogs and kids in a place like this without getting chaos."

The growth of the equal rights movement has been even harder on dogs than it has been on humans. As wives have assumed a greater authority in the home, they have tended to give Rover the heave-ho and replace him with a kitty.

They argue that Rover is too noisy and boisterous, that he may be a good watchdog but a good

Where Do We Benefit?

The campaign is over. The people have voted. The results are in. The world moves its way as though nothing spectacular had happened.

Perhaps in the long course of history, nothing spectacular has happened. We remember Marathon and Charles Martel at Tours and John Sobieski at Vienna and when Kerensky fled to Gatchina.

That is, a few remember that, just as fewer still ever heard of Wang Yang-Ming, an early pragmatist who was accepted by the Japanese but not the Chinese. This was centuries ago but it all showed up in World War II in mass reactions which we still need to understand.

Albert Einstein once said: "... who can doubt that Moses was better leader of humanity than Machiavelli?"

Einstein was, of course, right but Machiavelli often is triumphant which perhaps explains why the United States broke with Great Britain and France over the Israel-Egypt war. It is sometimes difficult to understand American policy which fits neither the morality of Moses nor the pragmatism of Machiavelli. It seems to be a policy drawn out of the air, or possibly the clouds.

For what reason have we so regularly supported Nasser whose own writings prove him to be a direct descendant of Hitler in his conduct and of Mussolini in his emotional responses? But we have supported Nasser against Great Britain, against France, against Israel.

We demand economic sanctions against Israel for invading Egypt, but there still are countries that are reticent about demanding sanctions against Soviet Russia for invading Hungary and Poland.

I go back to Einstein who wrote some very wise things and others not so wise, even as you and I. He made a most interesting point about all this:

The real danger is that while

"...the casual and object i've mode of thinking—though not necessarily in contradiction with the religious sphere—leaves most people little room for a deepening religious sense. And because of the traditional close link between religion and morals, that has brought with it, in the last hundred years or so, a serious weakening of moral thought and sentiment. That, to my mind, is a main cause for the barbarization of political ways in our time..."

The desertion of Moses is symbolic of the desertion of the moral law and for it can only be substituted the rule of thumb which means that anything goes that one can get away with. It is this rule in international relations that has made the weak and backward nations so audacious. They are not guided by Moses but by Machiavelli, and they calculate that the strong United States will appear those who appear to be weak because it is so involved in the fear of war that it halts and stumbles and fails to take a strong stand.

What benefit to anyone has it been to destroy the French empire in North Africa? What benefit has it been to the United States to help Nasser in Egypt? What moral principle or the Kremlin against the students in Budapest? I should like to see a fundamental explanation of the guiding principles which support such contradictions.

The real danger is that while we are breaking the British, the French and the Dutch empires, we have been helping the Russians to build their singularly cruel and brutal empire which is reducing European nations to a state of colonialism, and we were building an Arab empire under the leadership of Nasser whose outstanding virtues are impudence and ambition. And what shall we do with all this when we have inherited the thistles and thorns that we are now sowing?

Perhaps we shall have preserved our oil properties and perhaps not. For it does happen that when dictators feel their oats, they confiscate private property and most of all and preferably, foreign-owned private property.

Ma Tze-Tung has seized everything in continental China and even forced foreign management to remain to run the businesses for the Communists' advantage. It does not seem reasonable to believe that if the United States continues its policy of unending appeasement of the rascals who are thrown up in revolutions to govern countries, shouting "anti-colonialism!" as a frightening slogan, the day will not come when these will seize American-owned oil, confiscate it, violate their contracts, and expect to get aid from the United States to operate the stolen enterprises.

And they probably will not be disappointed in their expectations.

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

A youngster is never too young to exercise.

In fact, Bonnie Prudden in her book, "Is Your Child Really Fit?" suggests starting a baby on an exercise program the very day he comes home from the hospital.

Miss Prudden, director of the Institute for Physical Fitness, White Plains, New York, makes the flat statement in her book that more than half of our boys and girls—four out of every seven between the ages of 6 and 16—lack the minimum physical fitness demanded by normal living.

Series of Studies

After a long-term series of studies, she and Dr. Hans Kraus reported at a White House Conference on Physical Fitness that the United States is rapidly becoming the softest nation in the world.

As cat lover explained it: "A dog is a born peasant. A cat is a born aristocrat. The peasant has many fine outdoor virtues, but indoors one prefers the company of the aristocrat."

Yep, the cat, that fur-bearing gold-digger, that stalkin' sneer, that strolling insolence on plush, is crowding out old honest loyal-loving Rover, who has walked side by side down the ages with man, serving him often better than man has served himself.

There may be cats that would leap into a raging river and help pull me out and there also may be cats that would dash into a burning building to help guide me down the stairs.

But so far I've never met a cat I'd trust with a match or turn my back on in a canoe.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—One of President Eisenhower's biggest problems in 1957 will be foreign aid. How much and for whom? The turmoil in Eastern Europe and the Middle East has heads spinning here.

Congress, increasingly critical, this year chopped a billion dollars off the foreign aid. Eisenhower asked. What it does next year depends on the whole uncertain world picture.

It is perhaps the most confused picture faced by an American president since the aid program began.

Since July 1, 1945, this government has shovelled out more than $1 billion dollars over 14½ billions of it military.

For a while it also seemed the Hungarians had not only cut loose from Moscow but had overthrown their Communist masters. Then the Russians moved in and slaughtered them. But before this happened, Eisenhower offered the Hungarians 20 million dollars in food and other supplies.

Eisenhower has other problems on his hands. For example:

The Middle East and Africa—which have received over four billion dollars in American help—are inflamed at the British-French-Israeli invasions of Egypt. Russia is trying to move in as the Arab's friend and benefactor.

It will take months to find out whether more American help in the Middle East will be needed or wasted. By then the Russians may have a firm foothold there.

Meanwhile, the French split with this country—their attack on Egypt—may encourage American isolationists to demand an end to aid for them and every body else. It seems unlikely Congress will listen to that.

Ohio Patrol Roster Hits Record High

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio highway patrol now has more men than ever before in its history, Col. George Mingle, superintendent, reports.

Graduation of 30 new patrolmen from training school Friday brought the patrol's manpower to 712. Authorized strength is 700 plus the Ohio Turnpike patrol to which 59 are now assigned.

Minig's said the additional men make possible a new post at Montpelier in Williams County. It will be located in the state highway garage on alternate U. S. 20 at the east edge of the city.

Should Gas Taxes Be Used For Highway Only?

With the constantly increasing demand for more and better highways there also is a movement in many states to forbid diverting state-gasoline tax receipts for uses other than improving present highways and building new ones.

It is reported that 26 states have adopted state constitutional amendments toward this end, Minnesota being the first to do so in 1920.

Montana on November 6 is to vote on such an amendment. Virginia and several other states have statutory provisions along the same general line.

There has been opposition also to this method of using gas tax funds for highway purposes only. Many so-called tax experts insist that no tax should be earmarked for a special purpose. In opposing earmarking in January 1951, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York argued that by extending the principle, state taxes on alcohol would logically have to be set aside for the rehabilitation of alcoholics.

The New York State Joint Legislative Committee on Highways, Canals, and Revenues in a 1952 report defended the New York practice of placing highway revenues in the general fund. It called the practice a target of "highway-user, farm and tax groups" complaining of New York's weight-distance tax on heavy vehicles. As for the states which don't divert, the committee noted, "in most instances their highway problems are at least as acute, and usually more so, than

Is Tabby Replacing Rover?

NEW YORK (AP)—Is man's best friend, the dog, losing out to the cat in America?

Now is a good time to explore the question of whether Tabby is taking over from Rover in the American home.

Although a pet census would probably show the United States still has millions more dogs than cats, there are other signs tending to show that the long heyday of the dog is headed for twilight.

He may still have the farm vote, but he is losing out in the cities, where he has become a casualty of a civilization which fits the cat very well but in which he is as out of place as a frog in a boudoir.

Landlords, wives, and television are three factors that combine to throw a deepening shadow over the future of the dog, particularly in urban centers.

Many landlords in Manhattan will allow their tenants to have children, cats, parakeets (or even a boa constrictor if you smuggle it in after dark), but they draw the line at dogs.

This is the rule where I live, a vast apartment project housing more than 2,000 families. When I asked why cats were permitted but dogs were verboten, I was told:

"Look, if 1,000 families here had children and 500 had cats, you wouldn't hardly notice the cats, because they stay in the house. But if the other 500 families had dogs, you know what we'd have? Lawsuits!"

"You couldn't mix cats, dogs and kids in a place like this without getting chaos."

The growth of the equal rights movement has been even harder on dogs than it has been on husbands. As wives have assumed a greater authority in the home, they have tended to give Rover the heave-ho and replace him with a kitty.

They argue that Rover is too noisy and boisterous, that he may be a good watchdog but a good electric burglar alarm can be fed more cheaply, and that a cat makes a nicer house pet because she is gentle and soft-footed.

As cat lover explained it: "A dog is a born peasant. A cat is a born aristocrat. The peasant has many fine outdoor virtues, but indoors one prefers the company of the aristocrat."

Yep, the cat, that fur-bearing gold digger, that stalking sneer, that strolling insolence on plush, is crowding out our honest loyal-loving Rover, who has walked side by side down the ages with man, serving him often better than man has served himself.

Where Do We Benefit?

The campaign is over. The people have voted. The results are in. The world moves its way as though nothing spectacular had happened.

Perhaps in the long course of history, nothing spectacular has happened. We remember Marathon and Charles Martel at Tours and John Sobieski at Vienna and how Keresky fled to Gatchina.

That is, a few remember that, just as fewer still ever heard of Wang Yang-Ming, an early pragmatist who was accepted by the Japanese but not the Chinese. This was centuries ago but it all showed up in World War II in mass reactions which we still need to understand.

Albert Einstein once said:

"...who can doubt that Moses was a better leader of humanity than Machiavelli?..."

Einstein was, of course, right but Machiavelli often is triumphant which perhaps explains why the United States broke with Great Britain and France over the Israel-Egypt war. It is sometimes difficult to understand American policy which fits neither the morality of Moses nor the pragmatism of Machiavelli. It seems to be a policy drawn out of the air, or possibly the clouds.

For what reason have we so regularly supported Nasser or whose own writings prove him to be a direct descendant of Hitler in his conduct and of Mussolini in his emotional responses? But we have supported Nasser against Great Britain, against France, against Israel.

We demanded sanctions against Israel for invading Egypt, but there still are countries that are reticent about demanding sanctions against Soviet Russia for invading Hungary and Poland.

I go back to Einstein who wrote some very wise things and others not so wise, even as you and I. He made a most interesting point about all this:

"...the casual and objective mode of thinking—though not necessarily in contradiction with the religious sphere—leaves in most people little room for a deepening religious sense. And because of the traditional close link between religion and morals, that has brought with it, in the last hundred years or so, a serious weakening of moral thought and sentiment. That, to my mind, is a main cause for the barbarization of political ways in our time..."

The desertion of Moses is symbolic of the desertion of the moral law and for it can only be substituted the rule of thumb which means that anything goes that one can get away with. It is this rule in international relations that has made the weak and backward nations so audacious. They are not guided by Moses but by Machiavelli, and they calculate that the strong United States will appease those who appear to be weak because it is so involved in the fear of war that it halts and stumbles and fails to take a strong stand.

What benefit to anyone has it been to destroy the French empire in North Africa? What benefit has it been to the United States to upbuild Nasser in Egypt? What moral principle or the Kremlin against the students in Budapest? I should like to see a fundamental explanation of the guiding principles which support such contradictions.

The real danger is that while

we are breaking the British, the French and the Dutch empires, we have been helping the Russians to build their singularly cruel and brutal empire which is reducing European nations to a state of colonialism, and we were building an Arab empire under the leadership of Nasser whose outstanding virtues are impudence and ambition. And what shall we do with all this when we have inherited the thistles and thorns that we are now sowing?

Perhaps we shall have preserved our oil properties and perhaps not. For it does happen that when dictators feel their oats, they confiscate private property and most of all and preferably, foreign-owned private property. Mao Tze-Tung has seized everything in continental China and even forced foreign management to remain to run the businesses for the Communists' advantage. It does not seem reasonable to believe that if the United States continues its policy of unending appeasement of the rascals who are thrown up in revolutions to govern countries, shouting "anti-colonialism!" as a frightening slogan, the day will not come when these fellows will seize American-owned oil, confiscate it, violate their contracts, and expect to get aid from the United States to operate the stolen enterprises.

And they probably will not be disappointed in their expectations.

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

A youngster is never too young to exercise.

In fact, Bonnie Prudden in her new book, "Is Your Child Really Fit?" suggests starting a baby on an exercise program the very day he comes home from the hospital.

Miss Prudden, director of the Institute for Physical Fitness, White Plains, New York, makes the flat statement in her book that more than half of our boys and girls—four out of every seven between the ages of 6 and 16—lack the minimum physical fitness demanded by normal living.

Series of Studies

After a long-term series of studies, she and Dr. Hans Kraus reported at a White House Conference on Physical Fitness that the United States is rapidly becoming the softest nation in the world.

To help remedy such a situation, she suggests exercise designed to build the strength and flexibility your kids must have.

When you bring your baby home to stay, Miss Prudden says, gently stretch his arms and legs. Give him plenty of kicking time and let him pull himself up on your fingers whenever he can.

When he is a little older, you can put a small exercise mat in his room. An old mattress will do. As soon as he can walk, you can teach him to do somersaults on the mat.

Even before that, when he starts to creep, you can do the wheelbarrow exercise with him. Let him walk on his hands while you hold his lower body off the floor by firmly grasping his hips. As his strength increases, you can grab his legs instead of his hips, thus putting more weight upon his arms.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

As I mentioned in a previous article on corn, several varieties originated in Fayette County, which I regard as the foremost corn county in the nation since more has been done here for the advancement of this important grain than in any other county.

Cyrus Coil, formerly of Jefferson Township, who died a number of years ago, originated the wonderful corn which became known as the Coil Corn.

Cyrus Coil was the grandfather of Gilbert Coil, widely known champion corn grower who resides west of Jeffersonville, and who for several years has been postmaster at Jeffersonville.

The Coil Corn, which like several other kinds of open pollinated corn, has about passed out of the picture, but since it was originated back around 1880 it had been one of the leading types in the nation.

It was a yellow corn with comparatively small white cob. The kernels were deep, oily and an excellent feeding type. It was medium early variety and was frequently used in replanting other kinds, so all of the corn would mature about the same time. It was a medium sized ear of excellent shelling qualities.

It seems that Cyrus Coil in growing corn, spotted the white cob in an ear, and proceeded to plant it. Soon, he had the new variety of corn which was so popular until hybrid took its place.

Angus Wright, who resides west of Jeffersonville, was one of the last farmers in Jefferson Township who grew the corn, and still has some of it which is several years old.

Angus not only liked the corn, but other farmers who grew it also regarded it as a high class general purpose corn.

Willard Kirk, thrice grand champion corn grower of the world, formerly grew it and was delighted with it.

In another article soon I will tell you about another kind of corn developed in Jefferson Township.

CHARTER TURNED DOWN

When the charter was submitted (and I have a copy on file somewhere) it was found to be so loosely put together that it was not acceptable to the thinking voters, and it was voted down accordingly.

Years later when a proper charter was framed and submitted, it was carried, and was one of the greatest forward steps this city has ever taken.

WILMINGTON (P) — Work on a $341,000 plant improvement project here has begun and should be completed by spring, the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. says.

The Wilmington project is part of a multi-million dollar program planned by Ohio Consolidated to improve and expand its service next year here and in Port William, Sabina, Clarksville, Martinsville, New Vienna and Blanchester.

Clare E. Williams, company president, said when improvements are completed, service between Wilmington and neighboring excursions will be increased by 50 per cent.

Man Is Held For Making Bogus Checks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P) — A husky 32-year-old West Virginian was held here today in connection with a counterfeiting operation that stretched all the way to Washington state.

A Secret Service agent said John Beckett, 32, of East Lynne, W. Va., was arrested here Saturday after his apartment caught fire when photographic equipment overloaded an electrical circuit.

Ralph Robuck, special agent in charge of the Secret Service for the Columbus district, said Beckett, a clean-cut, smooth-talking Army veteran, is being held for investigation of counterfeiting.

Robuck said Beckett admitted photographically reproducing some $75,000 in bogus checks during the past two years. He netted $25,000 of this amount with the other two-thirds pocketed by some 25 to 30 persons who spread the checks from West Virginia to Seattle, Robuck said.

Beckett, who had moved in the apartment here Friday under the name of George Thompson, was picked up by firemen after a chase of about a block. Firemen discovered the counterfeiting equipment after Beckett's landlady called them despite Beckett's protests that he would put out the blaze.

Years later when a proper charter was framed and submitted, it was carried, and was one of the greatest forward steps this city has ever taken.

eration to generation, comes the information that primitive Fayette County was not only largely an unbroken forest, but thousands of acres of what is now wonderful farmland, was nothing but swamps.

The swamps and streams (and the streams were choked with dead timber which retarded their flow and backed water over large areas,) were infested with vast hordes of mosquitoes, and tens of thousands of muskrats not to mention beavers, minks, and other.

However the mosquitoes and the muskrats were most prevalent, and the former made life miserable for the pioneers and their livestock during the warm months.

The muskrats were killed in great numbers, and for a long time there was no market for their fur.

A few of the pioneers who were none too choice about the kind of meat they ate, found the muskrats a very wholesome food, some of the reports state.

Bites of the mosquitoes probably were responsible for so muchague and malarial fever in the early days, and the premature death of a great many of the hardy pioneers.

There are still plenty of mosquitoes (in spots, and in this city unless preventive measures are taken,) and there are still some muskrats inhabiting stream banks in the county.

Man Is Held
For Making
Bogus Checks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A husky 32-year-old West Virginian was held here today in connection with a counterfeiting operation that stretched all the way to Washington state.

A Secret Service agent said John Beckett, 32, of East Lynne, W. Va., was arrested here Saturday after his apartment caught fire when photographic equipment overloaded an electrical circuit.

Ralph Robuck, special agent in charge of the Secret Service for the Columbus district, said Beckett, a clean-cut, smooth-talking Army veteran, is being held for investigation of counterfeiting.

Robuck said Beckett admitted photographically reproducing some $75,000 in bogus checks during the past two years. He netted $25,000 of this amount with the other two-thirds pocketed by some "25 to 30 persons" who spread the checks from West Virginia to Seattle, Robuck said.

Beckett, who had moved in the apartment here Friday under the name of George Thompson, was picked up by firemen after a chase of about a block. Firemen discovered the counterfeiting equipment after Beckett's landlady called them despite Beckett's protests that he would put out the blaze.

Bowl Picture Beginning To Show Clarity

Oregon State Seen Meeting Iowa in Big Tournament of Roses

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS While nothing is definitely settled—and, as they say, a football takes funny bounces—the postseason bowl picture was clarified somewhat Monday with at least half a dozen teams consulting timetables south or west.

With only two weeks to go in the regular season, here is how the four major bowl games could line up:

Rose—Oregon State vs. Iowa. Orange—Colorado vs. Clemson. Sugar—Tennessee vs. Georgia Tech.

Cotton—Texas A&M vs. Syracuse.

Oregon State has virtually assured itself of the Pacific Coast Conference Rose Bowl nomination. It has lost only one game, that to Southern California, which is ineligible along with UCLA and Washington for breaking recruiting rules.

After its uphill 20-19 victory over Stanford Saturday, Oregon State has only two opponents left, weakening Idaho and Oregon.

Iowa is the favorite to represent the Big Ten in the Rose Bowl. The Hawkeyes can wrap it up by beating Ohio State Saturday, no easy task since the Buckeyes have won 17 straight league games, including a 33-14 triumph over Indiana last week.

Iowa whipped Minnesota 7-0 Saturday. The only other teams in the running are Michigan and Minnesota. Each has two loss games left and one loss for each would send Iowa westward no matter how it game with Ohio State comes out.

Here is how the other three major bowls stack up:

Orange—Colorado, which probably will finish second to Oklahoma in the Big Seven race, is No. 1 in line. The Buffs were tied by Missouri Saturday 14-14. Oklahoma, which racked up its 37th straight victory when it licked Iowa State 44-0, is ineligible, having played in the last Orange Bowl game.

Clemson, which was held to a 6-6 standoff by Maryland Saturday, is the best the Atlantic Coast Conference, which provides the other Orange Bowl team, has to offer at the moment.

Sugar—Tennessee is almost certain to be the host team, wind up undefeated and win the Southern Conference championship. The Vols licked Georgia Tech 6-0 Saturday.

The Sugar Bowl would like to stage a rematch, even though the second-place team (in this case Georgia Tech) usually goes to the Cotton Bowl.

Cotton—Texas A&M has cut a steady swath through the Southwest Conference, capped by its 33-7 victory over Southern Methodist Saturday and has only Rice and Texas blocking its path to its first league title in 15 years.

But the Aggies are in the NCAA doghouse for recruiting violations and their fate will be decided at a meeting in Detroit tomorrow. The conference already has paraded the school.

Syracuse, the class of the East, appears to have the inside track as the visiting team. The Orange need only beat Colgate Saturday to finish with seven victories and one defeat.

Good Hope Cagers At Atlanta Tuesday

Good hope's Mad Anthony cagers are to go to Atlanta in quest of their first victory of the season in the only game scheduled by a Fayette County team Tuesday night.

However, all four of the Fayette County school teams will be in action Friday night.

One of Friday night's games will open the Fayette County League schedule with the Mad Anthonys tangling with the Bulldogs at Bloomingburg.

In other Friday night games, Madison Mills' Warriors will be playing at Fairfield and Jeffersonville's Tigers will be entertaining the Atlanta quintet.

Ex-Tennis Champ Seriously Hurt

CASTRO VALLEY, Calif. (UPI)—Art Larsen, former U. S. national tennis champion, was in critical condition today with head injuries suffered in a motor scooter accident.

He did not regain consciousness after his imported Italian scooter overturned on Eastshore Freeway near Hayward Saturday night.

Larsen, 31, of San Leandro, Calif., underwent operation on a brain artery at Eden hospital.

Dr. M. D. Corbett said his condition "is critical, but better than expected."

Franchise Buyers May See Price on Redskins Go Up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The franchise shoppers are tussling around the nation's capitol these days apparently have a good pro for buy.

Washington, like Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, has been the scene of reports of franchise offers from a L. I.ville, Ky., group, and Sunday the Redskins undoubtedly upped the price tag with a tough, but neat, 18-17 victory over the

Non-Red Flag Of Hungary Flying Now

MELBOURNE (UPI)—The traditional flag of Hungary flew over the entrance to the Olympic village Monday after the head of the Hungarian squad "requested" it be substituted for the Communist banner.

Philip Miskin, commandant of the village where the competing athletes are quartered, said the change was made after a phone call from the Hungarian Chief De-Mission after his arrival in Darwton, Northern Australia, to the acting head of the Hungarian delegation now in Melbourne.

Presumably, the order came as a result of the new Communist regime's concession in Budapest that henceforth the official flag of Hungary would be the traditional red, white and green banner with the Kosuth crest.

The change may have cleared the way for Hungarian participation in the games, which begin Nov. 22. The athletes here, many of whom fought as rebels against Russian troops, had vowed Sunday that they would not compete under the Communist emblem.

Miskin said the Communist flag was actually taken down by two of the Hungarian competitors who had accompanied him and two of his officials to the flag pole.

"They approached the pole," Miskin said, "produced a flag similar to the traditional flag, we carried, took down the other flag and ran up the new one."

This flag had seven across it a thin, black strips, which the Hungarians said were in honor of those who died fighting the Communists in the revolution.

Bowling Green Only Team in Ohio Unbeaten

COLUMBUS (UPI)—Bowling Green whacked Ohio University 41-27 Saturday to annex its first Mid-American conference football championship.

Bluffton and John Carroll suffered their first defeats to leave Bowling Green as the only unbeaten team in the state. And Heidelberg's Student Princes scored in the last two minutes for a 20-16 edge which knocked Muskingum's defending Ohio Conference champions out of the loop lead.

The Ohio Conference laurels rest on a couple of next Saturday's games, with Heidelberg, Hiram, Denison, Wittenberg and Muskingum all having a chance to grab the crown.

Eleven of the Ohio squads have completed play, and 20 more drop the curtain Saturday when 15 games are slated. In interstate play last weekend the Ohioans were beaten in 7 of 12 games, and now boast 45 wins, 44 losses and 2 ties for the season, with a scoring deficit of 1,452 to 1,481.

The Saturday schedule: Ohio State at Iowa, Western Michigan at Kent State, Marshall at Ohio U., Wooster at Oberlin, Denison at Ohio Wesleyan, Otterbein at Capital, Hiram at Marietta, Heidelberg.

Ohio Hunting Season Opens Thursday; Prospects 'Fair'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Ohio's hunting season opens at 9 a. m. Thursday with game prospects fair—about the same as last year in some spots, better in others, the state division of wildlife reported today.

The division expects most hunters to be after rabbits and pheasants, but predicts a limited number will hunt the elusive Hungarian partridge.

Nov. 15 is also the opening day of the trapping season for muskrats, mink, raccoon, opossum and skunk in the Lake Erie and inland trapping districts. The starting time is 12 hours later, however, at 9 p. m.

Night hunting for raccoon, opossum and skunks officially opens at 6 p. m. Thursday.

Archers can participate in Ohio's first statewide deer season after 9 a. m. Thursday, but must purchase a $5 deer hunting permit in addition to the regular hunting license. One deer may be killed, but it can be either sex except in Scioto and Adams counties, where only bucks are legal.

It is against the law to hunt with any firearms except shotguns in Ohio's public hunting areas, the wildlife division reminded hunters. Effective dates of the ban are Nov. 15-Dec. 8.

Caliber .22 rifles may be used between 6 p. m. and 6 a. m. the following day, the division said.

Duck hunters in the Delaware Reservoir area must check in at the division's station there each day between Nov. 15 and Dec. 22. Captain Hayden W. Olds announced.

The division appealed to hunters to co-operate with members of farm communities. It urged sportsmen to ask permission before hunting on private land, respect property and the safety of people and stock in the area, and encourage friendship between hunter and property owner.

Rabbit hunting should be about the same as last year, according to game biologists. They said there may be a slight increase in rabbits in central and western Ohio, and a slight decrease elsewhere.

But pheasant counts in northwestern Ohio may have 30 to 40 per cent fewer birds this year, biologists said. The wildlife division suggested hunters "might improve their chances by hunting fringe counties in northwest and north-central Ohio."

Pheasant hunting should be about on a par with last year in other parts of Ohio, especially the central, south-central and west-central counties, the division predicted.

Bowl Picture Beginning To Show Clarity

Oregon State Seen Meeting Iowa in Big Tournament of Roses

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS While nothing is definitely settled—and, as they say, a football takes funny bounces—the postseason bowl picture was clarified somewhat Monday with at least half a dozen teams consulting timetables south or west.

With only two weeks to go in the regular season, here is how the four major bowl games could line up:

Rose—Oregon State vs. Iowa. Orange—Colorado vs. Clemson. Sugar—Tennessee vs. Georgia Tech.

Cotton—Texas A&M vs. Syracuse.

Oregon State has virtually assured itself of the Pacific Coast Conference Rose Bowl nomination. It has lost only one game, that to Southern California, which is ineligible along with UCLA and Washington for breaking recruiting rules.

After its uphill 20-19 victory over Stanford Saturday, Oregon State has only two opponents left, weakling Idaho and Oregon.

Iowa is the favorite to represent the Big Ten in the Rose Bowl. The Hawkeyes can wrap it up by beating Ohio State Saturday, no easy task since the Buckeyes have won 17 straight league games, including a 33-14 triumph over Indiana last week.

Iowa whipped Minnesota 7-0 Saturday. The only other teams in the running are Michigan and Minnesota. Each has two loop games left and one loss for each would send Iowa westward no matter how its game with Ohio State comes out.

Here is how the other three major bowls stack up:

Orange—Colorado, which probably will finish second to Oklahoma in the Big Seven race, is No. 1 in line. The Buffs were tied by Missouri Saturday 14-14. Oklahoma, which racked up its 37th straight victory when it licked Iowa State 44-0, is ineligible, having played in the last Orange Bowl game.

Clemson, which was held to a 6-6 standoff by Maryland Saturday, is the best the Atlantic Coast Conference, which provides the other Orange Bowl team, has to offer at the moment.

Sugar—Tennessee is almost certain to be the host team, wind up undefeated and win the Southern Conference championship. The Vols licked Georgia Tech 6-0 Saturday.

The Sugar Bowl would like to stage a rematch, even though the second-place team (in this case Georgia Tech) usually goes to the Cotton Bowl.

Cotton—Texas A&M has cut a steady swath through the Southwest Conference, capped by its 33-7 victory over Southern Methodist Saturday and has only Rice and Texas blocking its path to its first league title in 15 years.

But the Aggies are in the NCAA doghouse for recruiting violations and their fate will be decided at a meeting in Detroit tomorrow. The conference already has pardoned the school.

Syracuse, the class of the East, appears to have the inside track as the visiting team. The Orange need only to beat Colgate Saturday to finish with seven victories and one defeat.

Good Hope Cagers At Atlanta Tuesday

Good hope's Mad Anthony cagers are to go to Atlanta in quest of their first victory of the season in the only game scheduled by a Fayette County team Tuesday night.

However, all four of the Fayette County school teams will be in action Friday night.

One of Friday night's games will open the Fayette County League schedule with the Mad Anthongs tangling with the Bulldogs at Bloomingburg.

In other Friday night games, Madison Mills' Warriors will be playing at Fairfield and Jeffersonville's Tigers will be entertaining the Atlanta quintet.

Ex-Tennis Champ Seriously Hurt

CASTRO VALLEY, Calif. (UPI) — Art Larsen, former U. S. national tennis champion, was in critical condition today with head injuries suffered in a motor scooter accident.

He did not regain consciousness after his imported Italian scooter overturned on Eastshore Freeway near Hayward Saturday night.

Larsen, 31, of San Leandro, Calif., underwent operation on a brain artery at Eden hospital.

Dr. M. D. Corbett said his condition "is critical, but better than expected."

Russ Aid Egypt

LONDON (UPI) — Moscow Radio said today silk weavers in the Russian capital have agreed to work two hours overtime and contribute the extra money to Egypt.

Claude Gilbert, San Jose State fullback, played center field on the Spartan baseball team last spring.

Dottie's Pick Wins Classic; Times Square Finishes Second

Dottie's Pick, with Del Miller up, repeated her performance of a week ago to take the American Pacing Classic at Hollywood Park, California, in straight heats Saturday. Times Square, driven by Eddie Cobb, was second and Dale Frost finished third. Time of the mile was 1:57.4. The quarter was paced in 28.2; the half in 58 seconds and the three-quarter in 1:29.

Eddie Cobb also finished third in the trotting counterpart with Jean

Franchise Buyers May See Price on Redskins Go Up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The franchise shoppers are tugging around the nation's capital these days apparently have spotted a good pro for buy.

Washington, like Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, has been the scene of reports of franchise offers from a Louisville, Ky., group, and Sunday the Redskins undoubtedly upped the price tag with a tough, but neat, 18-17 victory over the

Non-Red Flag Of Hungary Flying Now

MELBOURNE (UPI) — The traditional flag of Hungary flew over the entrance to the Olympic village Monday after the head of the Hungarian squad "requested" it be substituted for the Communist banner.

Philip Miskin, commandant of the village where the competing athletes are quartered, said the change was made after a phone call from the Hungarian Chief Delegation after his arrival in Darwin, Northern Australia, to the acting head of the Hungarian delegation now in Melbourne.

Presumably, the order came as a result of the new Communist regime's concession in Budapest that henceforth the official flag of Hungary would be the traditional red, white and green banner with the Kosuth crest.

The change may have cleared the way for Hungarian participation in the games, which begin Nov. 22. The athletes here, many of whom fought as rebels against Russian troops, had vowed Sunday that they would not compete under the Communist emblem.

Miskin said the Communist flag was actually taken down by two of the Hungarian competitors who had accompanied him and two of his officials to the flag pole.

"They approached the pole," Miskin said, "produced a flag similar to the traditional flag; we carried, took down the other flag and ran up the new one."

This flag had been sown across it a thin, black strips, which the Hungarians said were in honor of those who died fighting the Communists in the revolution.

previously unbeaten Detroit Lions.

The result, coupled with the Chicago Bears' easy 38-14 romp over the visiting Green Bay Packers, left the Lions tied with the Bears for the National Football League's Western Conference lead. Both have 6-1 records with five weeks ends to go.

While the race was being knotted in the west, the New York Giants were breaking a first-place eastern tie with the Chicago Cardinals by smothering the Cards' trumpeted offense 23-10 in Yankee Stadium and avenging an early-season 35-27 loss at Comiskey Park.

That puts the New Yorkers at 6-1 and the Cards at 5-2, but looming before the Giants are games on successive Sundays at Washington, with the Bears at New York and again the Redskins at New York. Washington, the team that put the initial stain on the Cards' record two weeks ago at Chicago, could really make it up to the Cards with twin triumphs over the Giants. The Cards face only one more team with a winning record, the Bears Dec. 9 at Wrigley Field.

Those boys in the market for a franchise in Pennsylvania had little to get excited about at Philadelphia where the so-so Eagles whipped the lowly Pittsburgh Steelers 14-7. The Eagles, who like "Washington" have rebuffed franchise bids so far, are fourth in the east with a 3-4 mark behind Washington's 3-3. The Steelers, cotted also by a Buffalo, N. Y., group, and as yet uncommitted on a move have a 2-5 slate, the same as the defending Champion Browns.

Baltimore's third-place Colts, 3-3 in the west and the only team to knock off the Bears, stopped Cleveland 21-7 Sunday, and in a battle of west coast tailenders, the host Los Angeles Rams moved out of the cellar with a 30-6 victory over the San Francisco 49ers (1-6). The Rams are now tied for fourth with Green Bay at 2-5.

While the Cards and Giants are finished sniping at each other, the payoff meetings in the west are still to come. The Bears are at Detroit Dec. 2 and the situation is reversed Dec. 16.

The 1934 Detroit Lions, playing their first year in the National Football League, won seven straight games by shutouts.

Bowling Green Only Team in Ohio Unbeaten

COLUMBUS (UPI) — Bowling Green whacked Ohio University 41-27 Saturday to annex its first Mid-American conference football champion ship.

Bluffton and John Carroll suffered their first defeat to leave Bowling Green as the only unbeaten team in the state. And Heidelberg's Student Princes scored in the last two minutes for a 10-6 edge which knocked Muskingum's defending Ohio Conference champions out of the loop lead.

The Ohio Conference laurels rest on a couple of next Saturday's games, with Heidelberg, Hiram, Denison, Wittenberg and Muskingum all having a chance to grab the crown.

Eleven of the Ohio squads have completed play, and 20 more drop the curtain Saturday when 15 games are slated. In interstate play last weekend the Ohioans were beaten in 7 of 12 games, and now boast 45 wins, 44 losses and 2 ties for the season, with a scoring deficit of 1,452 to 1,481.

The Saturday schedule: Ohio State at Iowa, Western Michigan at Kent State, Marshall at Ohio U., Wooster at Oberlin, Denison at Ohio Wesleyan, Otterbein at Capital, Hiram at Marietta, Heidelberg at Akron, Western Reserve at Case, John Carroll at Wayne, Xavier at Kentucky, Wichita at Dayton, Central State at Findlay, Brandeis at Toledo, and Morris Harvey at Baldwin Wallace.

King Carroll, one of the top 2-year-olds of 1956, had a perfect record at Hialeah last winter, winning all three starts.

Ohio Hunting Season Opens Thursday; Prospects 'Fair'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Ohio's hunting season opens at 9 a. m. Thursday with game prospects fair—about the same as last year in some spots, better in others, the state division of wildlife reported.

The division expects most hunters to be after rabbits and pheasants, but predicts a limited number will hunt the elusive Hungarian partridge.

Nov. 15 is also the opening day of the trapping season for muskrat, mink, raccoon, opossum and skunk in the Lake Erie and inland trapping districts. The starting time is 12 hours later, however, at 9 p. m.

Night hunting for raccoon, opossum and skunk officially opens at 8 p. m. Thursday.

Archers can participate in Ohio's first statewide deer season after 9 a. m. Thursday, but must purchase a $5 deer hunting permit in addition to the regular hunting license. One deer may be killed, but it can be either sex except in Scioto and Adams counties, where only bucks are legal.

It is against the law to hunt with any firearms except shotguns in Ohio's public hunting areas, the wildlife division reminded hunters. Effective dates of the ban are Nov. 15-Dec. 8.

Caliber .22 rifles may be used between 6 p. m. and 6 a. m. the following day, the division said.

Duck hunters in the Delaware Reservoir area must check in at the division's station there each day between Nov. 15 and Dec. 22, Chief Hayden W. Olds announced.

The division appealed to hunters to co-operate with members of farm communities. It urged sportsmen to ask permission before hunting on private land, respect private property and the safety of people and stock in the area, and encourage friendship between hunter and property owner.

Rabbit hunting should be about the same as last year, according to game biologists. They said there may be a slight increase in rabbits in central and western Ohio, and a slight decrease elsewhere.

But pheasant counts in northwestern Ohio may have 30 to 40 per cent fewer birds, this year, biologists said. The wildlife division suggested hunters "might improve their chances by hunting fringe counties in northwest and north-central Ohio."

Pheasant hunting should be about on a par with last year in other parts of Ohio, especially the central, south-central and west-central counties, the division predicted.

Recorder Busy On Oil Leases

Monthly Reports List Activities

The business highlights in Fayette County last month probably were the recording of 77 oil and gas leases, all but half a dozen of them by the Kewanee Oil Co. of Oklahoma and the recording of a deed conveying 67 acres of Fayette County land to the Du Pont Corp. for a plant site.

Although signed over a period of several months, the oil leases were recorded in one big batch. And, indications are, there are many more to come.

In some respects, the summary of the month's affairs in the county recorder's office by Mrs. Eloise Johnson does not present a true picture. This applies especially to the mortgages on town lots that were recorded, because of the $727,972 total, around $500,000 represented refinancing operations. Just one of these was for $400,000. All told, 50 mortgages were given on what is broadly described as "town lots."

DURING the same month, 45 town lot mortgages for $216,725 were released.

During October of last year, 40 town lot mortgages for $171,314 were given and 39 for $125,797 were released.

For the most part, the town lot mortgages were given on new homes in Washington C. H. and its environs.

THE STORY was a bit different on farm mortgages. In October of this year only three farm mortgages on 568 acres for $32,600 were recorded compared with 13 on 1,116 acres for $135,725 during the same month last year.

This year, only five farm mortgages on 517 acres for $24,983 were released in October. Eleven on 1,108 acres for $61,959 were released in October last year.

This year in October, 74 deeds of all types were recorded as compared with 67 during the same month a year ago.

Recording fees last month amounted to $875 and for the same month last year they totaled $694.

Police Probe New Vandalism Reports

Police are studying four reports of vandalism here during the weekend, and said they were sufficiently concerned to intensify the night patrols. However, they were making their investigation with few good leads.

Mrs. Everett Leasure told police someone had thrown a rock through a window of the Slavens Grocery on Walnut St., but could give no details.

Eugene Heath, 433 E. Paint St., reported someone had broken the windshield of his 1956 Oldsmobile while it was parked in front of his home. He said it looked like a blunt instrument had been used.

Friday night the vandals were taken off the standard lights along the walk to the high school and smashed in Temple St.

Jake Evans, 1126 Yeoman St. reported someone had broken the radio antenna off of his automobile Friday night during the football game at Gardner Park while it was parked on Circle Ave.

Mrs. Denen Dies In Springfield

Mrs. George H. Denen, 90, former Washington C. H. resident, died Sunday at the home of a son, Fred, in Springfield. She had lived here until the death of her husband 16 years ago.

She is survived by three other sons, Denver, of Hillsboro, and and Ralph and Donald of Fayette County; four daughters, Mrs. Robert McClure, Mrs. Ty Sloan and Mrs. William Moore, all of McKenzie, Tenn., and Mrs. Guy Hill, Dearborn, Mich., 17 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Austin Richards Memorial Home, E. High St., Springfield, where services will be conducted at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday. Burial will be in Glen Haven Memorial Gardens.

'World Neighbors' Chapter Proposed

Many public offices and financial institutions are closed today in observance of Veterans Day, which actually fell on Sunday.

Maybe you've wondered about Ohio's "legal holidays".

Here's the list as recognized by the Ohio General Assembly and effective as of July 15, 1955:

Jan. 1, New Year's Day.

Feb. 12, Lincoln's Birthday.

Feb. 22, Washington's Birthday.

May 30, Memorial Day.

July 4, Independence Day.

First Monday in September, Labor Day.

Oct. 12, Columbus Discovery Day.

Nov. 11, Veterans Day, formerly known as Armistice Day.

Nov. 22, this year, Thanksgiving Day.

Dec. 25, Christmas Day.

AS TO the Thanksgiving date the law provides that any day which the President of the United States, or the Governor of Ohio proclaims as a day of Thanksgiving, may be known as Thanksgiving Day.

These legal holidays are presumed to be followed by all public offices. Usually they are also observed by financial institutions and any commercial business places which see fit to do so.

The law also provides that state or national election days may be observed for a half holiday.

It further provides that if any of these legal holidays falls upon Sunday, the next succeeding business day shall be observed as a legal holiday.

The interest of the two Fayette Countians centered on chapter organization and operation for the present. Later more attention will be given to opportunities to help.

THE STORY was a bit different on farm mortgages. In October of this year only three farm mortgages on 568 acres for $32,600 were recorded compared with 13 on 1,116 acres for $135,725 during the same month last year.

Wilbur Paullin, 74, Dies in Columbus

Wilbur Paullin, 74, a native of Sedalia and well known in this community, died at his home, 160 S. Burgess Ave., Columbus, Saturday after a brief illness.

Mr. Paullin had been in the real estate and insurance business in Columbus for many years, ever since he moved from Sedalia as a young man.

He is survived by his wife, three daughters and seven grandchildren. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. John Donahue of Sedalia and Mrs. Minnie Reeder of Columbus, and two brothers, Edgar of Columbus and Herman of Mount Sterling.

He was a member of Leonore Lodge of Masons in Sedalia and this year had received his 50-year pin.

Funeral services are to be at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Schoedinger Funeral Home, 3039 W. Broad St., Columbus, and interment is to be in Sunset Cemetery on the west side of Columbus. Friends may call at the funeral home after 1 p. m. Tuesday.

Recorder Busy On Oil Leases

Monthly Reports List Activities

The business highlights in Fayette County last month probably were the recording of 77 oil and gas leases, all but half a dozen of them by the Kewanee Oil Co. of Oklahoma and the recording of a deed conveying 67 acres of Fayette County land to the Du Pont Corp. for a plant site.

Although signed over a period of several months, the oil leases were recorded in one big batch. And, indications are, there are many more to come.

In some respects, the summary of the month's affairs in the county recorder's office by Mrs. Eloise Johnson does not present a true picture. This applies especially to the mortgages on town lots that were recorded, because of the $727,972 total, around $500,000 represented refinancing operations. Just one of these was for $400,000. All told, 50 mortgages were given on what is broadly described as "town lots."

DURING the same month, 45 town lot mortgages for $216,725 were released.

During October of last year, 40 town lot mortgages for $171,314 were given and 39 for $125,797 were released.

For the most part, the town lot mortgages were given on new homes in Washington C. H. and its environs.

THE STORY was a bit different on farm mortgages. In October of this year only three farm mortgages on 568 acres for $32,600 were recorded compared with 13 on 1,116 acres for $135,725 during the same month last year.

This year, only five farm mortgages on 517 acres for $24,983 were released in October. Eleven on 1,108 acres for $61,959 were released in October last year.

This year in October, 74 deeds of all types were recorded as compared with 67 during the same month a year ago.

Recording fees last month amounted to $875 and for the same month last year they totaled $694.

Police Probe New Vandalism Reports

Police are studying four reports of vandalism here during the weekend, and said they were sufficiently concerned to intensify the night patrols. However, they were making their investigation with few good leads.

Mrs. Everett Leasure told police someone had thrown a rock through a window of the Slavens Grocery on Walnut St., but could give no details.

Eugene Heath, 433 E. Paint St., reported someone had broken the windshield of his 1956 Oldsmobile while it was parked in front of his home. He said it looked like a blunt instrument had been used.

Friday night the blobs were taken off of the standard lights along the walk to the high school and smashed in Temple St.

Jake Evans, 1126 Yeoman St. reported someone had broken the radio antenna off of his automobile Friday night during the football game at Gardner Park while it was parked on Circle Ave.

'World Neighbors' Chapter Proposed

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Sheppard, back from a weekend "World Neighbors" conference in Columbus, today are laying the foundation for establishment of a chapter here.

Maybe you've wondered about Ohio's "legal holidays".

Here's the list as recognized by the Ohio General Assembly and effective as of July 15, 1955:

Jan. 1, New Year's Day.

Feb. 12, Lincoln's Birthday.

May 30, Memorial Day.

July 4, Independence Day.

First Monday in September, Labor Day.

Oct. 12, Columbus Discovery Day.

Nov. 11, Veterans Day, formerly known as Armistice Day.

Nov. 22, this year, Thanksgiving Day.

Dec. 25, Christmas Day.

AS TO the Thanksgiving date the law provides that any day which the President of the United States, or the Governor of Ohio proclaims as a day of Thanksgiving, may be known as Thanksgiving Day.

These legal holidays are presumed to be followed by all public offices. Usually they are also observed by financial institutions and any commercial business places which see fit to do so.

The law also provides that state or national election days may be observed for a half holiday.

It further provides that if any of these legal holidays falls upon Sunday, the next succeeding business day shall be observed as a legal holiday.

The interest of the two Fayette Countians centered on chapter organization and operation for the present. Later more attention will be given to opportunities to help.

Mr. Sheppard has been in the real estate and insurance business in Columbus for many years, ever since he moved from Sedalia as a young man.

He is survived by his wife, three daughters and seven grandchildren. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. John Donahue of Sedalia and Mrs. Minnie Reeder of Columbus, and two brothers, Edgar of Columbus and Herman of Mount Sterling.

He was a member of Leonore Lodge of Masons in Sedalia and this year had received his 50-year pin.

Funeral services are to be at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Schoedinger Funeral Home, 3030 W. Broad St., Columbus and interment is to be in Sunset Cemetery on the west side of Columbus. Friends may call at the funeral home after 1 p. m. Tuesday.

CUT BARN-BUILDING COSTS

PLAN AN ECONOMICAL POLE BARN
USING PRESSURE-CREOSOTED WOOD

Putting up new farm buildings can be very expensive and time-consuming these days.

For many farmers the solution lies in an efficient, easily-constructed pole barn, built around poles set directly in the ground.

Naturally these poles, and other wood near the ground, must be well protected against insects and decay. That's why it's standard practice to assure long life and lasting strength by using only pressure-creosoted poles. We carry a large stock of poles, lumber and posts pressure-treated with Barrett coal-tar creosote. Come in and look it over.

WHS Band Makes Hit at Cleveland

The WHS Marching Band was a hit in Cleveland Sunday.

The band, under the direction of Robert Neumann, played between halves of the pro game at Municipal Stadium which the Browns lost to Baltimore, 21-7.

The show was the same as the one performed at halftime Friday night at Gardner Park. However, according to Neumann, the televised Cleveland performance was a lot smoother. John Trace, WHS principal, announced the Circus program over a loudspeaker, as the marchers went through their motions.

Three busloads of marchers left Washington C. H. at 5:40 a. m. Sunday, and reached Cleveland at 10:30 a. m. after several stops along the way. They dropped off their equipment at the stadium and then spent some free time touring the city.

THE BAND ran into trouble shortly before the game started when they discovered that they apparently had rehearsed their entrance for the wrong end of the field. However, the problem was cleared up when it was found that they had been given the wrong dressing rooms.

At halftime, the marchers shared the show with the Dayton Fairview band.

The group watched the ball game, and then went to dinner.

The buses left Cleveland at 6:30 p. m. and stopped at Strongsville, where the Rev. W. Herbert O'Hara has prepared a special service at the First Congregational Church for the marchers.

The band arrived home at 12:30 a. m.
